To Whom It May Concern:

I'm contacting you to ask to please withdraw your petition to the FCC regarding weakening Indiana's telephone privacy law immediately.

I signed up for this wonderful protection from annoying sales calls. Why don't you people understand that if I want to do business with you, I'll contact you? I don't wish to spend time answering your calls. We're bombarded with advertising for banks all the time. Do you really think we need your calls as well? The fact that you are challenging my right to privacy shows what you are all about in my opinion. Please have the decency to honor the wishes of those of us who have requested that you leave us alone.

Sincerely,

Ramona Jarboe
